CREOLE

Introduction

The design principle of the bed CREOLE is based on the form of arches, which can be arranged in different lengths and combinations.

These arches are wall panels which are being fitted to a wall and thus form the bed's back behind the free standing bed base.

The modular concept of the single panels integrates the customer in the design process and thus enables them to create their own individual mural style head board.

“We want to set the antithesis to minimalism and thus give any austere bedroom a decorative and emotional component.”

CREOLE

Art déco

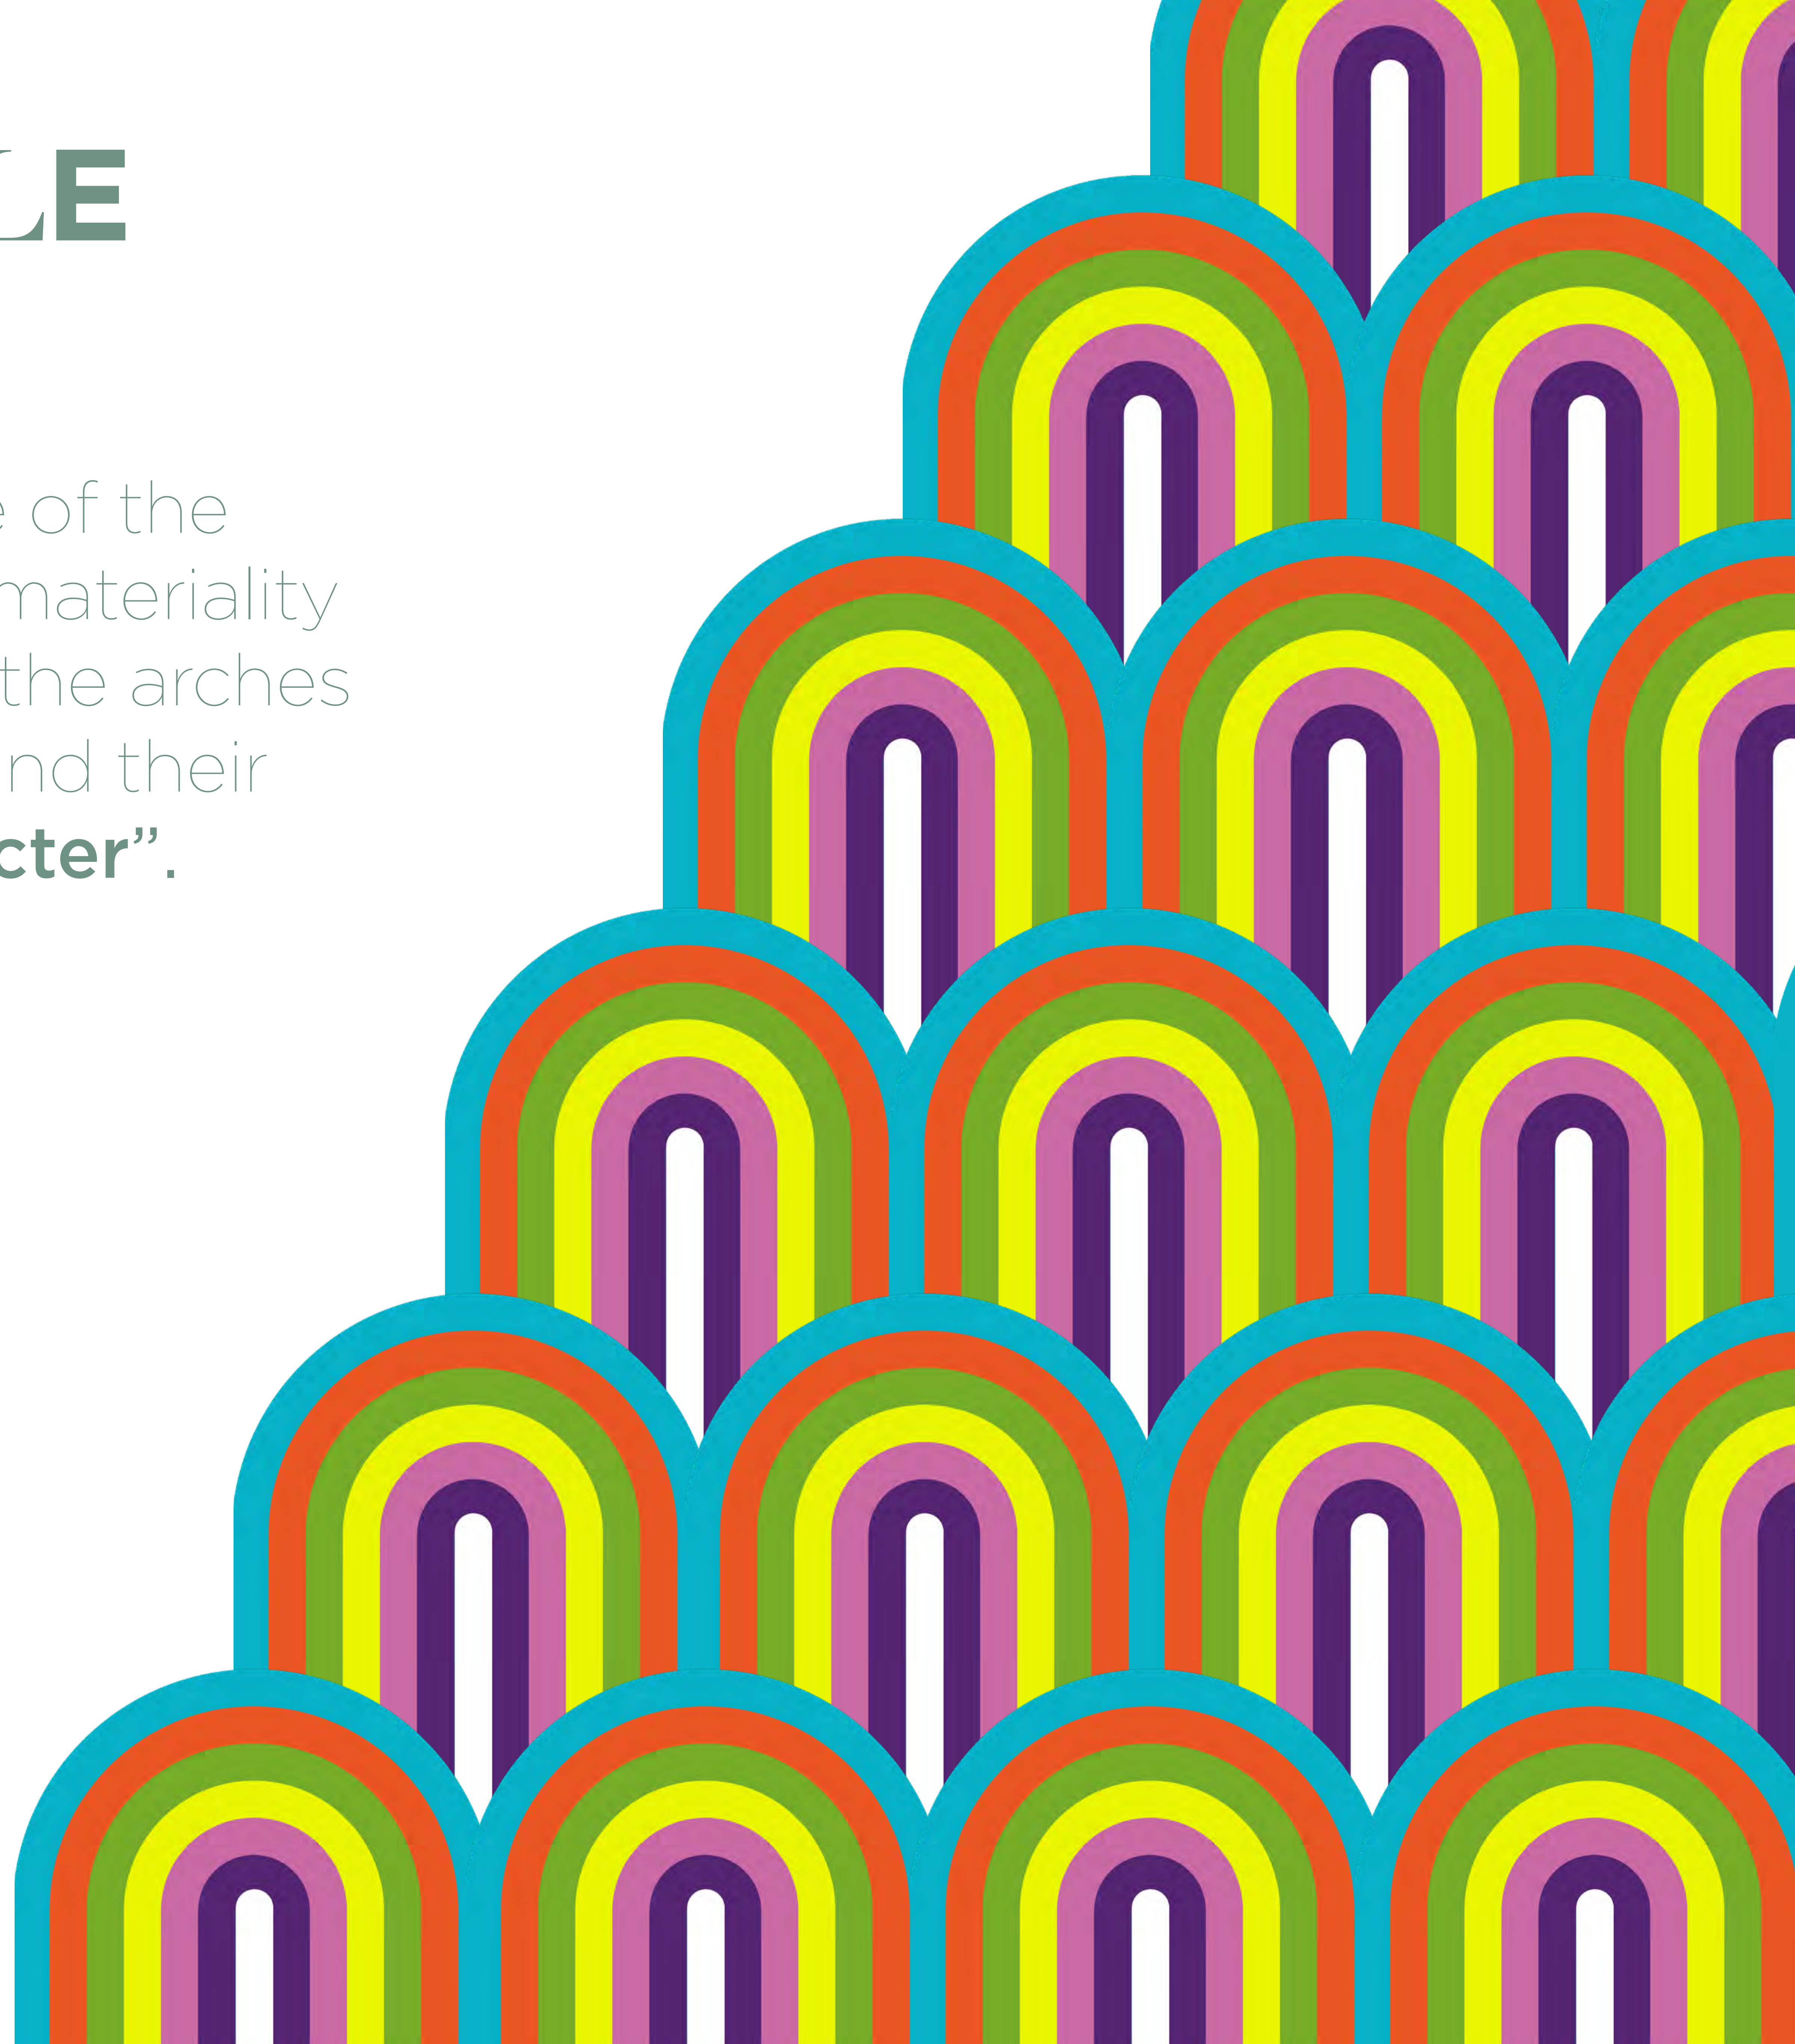

The recurring motif of the arches expresses itself as an abstract decor and is reminiscent of the Art Deco style.

By fastening the back panels to the wall, the row of arches turns into an ornamental structural element in architecture and may parse a smooth facade or loosen it a bit.

CREOLE

Design

„The technique of the padding and the materiality of the velour give the arches their plasticity and their “Bold Character”.

Possibilities and flexibility

All in all, 7 different CREOLE lengths can be combined with each other. Thus, irregular, symmetrical and asymmetrical combinations in a vertical alignment are possible. In each case, three lengths (160 & 180 & 200 cm) are choosable as a horizontal pair.

Apart from the two panels on the outside, all of the others can easily be rearranged.

The wall panels are not just usable as a headboard, but can also be set up as their own mural on the wall, independent of the bed frame.

The same principle applies to the bed corpus. This one can be purchased without the back part. Ideal for sloping roofs, or to simply put it in the middle of the room.

Due to the diverse selection of Bretz fabrics, plain, tone in tone or super colourful combinations can be created.

Our tip: Fabric Bretz Boheme. It gives a glamorous impression and is available in 59 colours.

Depending on the choice of a mattress, two different height positions can be put in place.

Facts & Highlights

- Modularity through creative arrangement of the arched wall-back panels:
- 4 to 9 wall panels in 40,5 cm grid can be combined
- A max of 2 wall panels can be put horizontally
- Easy fitting to walls due to a bar
- Back panels can form decorative murals or upholstered backs for already existing seating elements, even without the bed base
- Bed corpus available without back part; ideal for sloping roofs or to be put in the middle of a room
- Mattress width: 160/180/200 cm
