TERATAI

New Showrooms

Perfection, beauty and exoticism - that's what the modular sofa system „Teratai“ is all about. Formally, it is based on the appearance of the leaf of a water lily, to which it also owes its name. The unique quilting runs through the velour cover like veins on a leaf and provides volume and structure.

Thanks to the freely selectable velour covers and add-on modules, Teratai can be planned into completely different room situations. From color blocking to natural.

TERATAI

Color Blocking

Awarding Teratai the starring role in a modern living-room is easier than you may think.

Harmonious green tones mirror the interplay of colours on the shimmering fabric. Combining organically-shaped objects like sculptural lamps with the clean lines of, for example, coloured sideboards, highlights the fundamental design concept of 'minimalism meets maximalism' which was key in the development process. Make the room more vibrant by adding a big, coloured rug.

TERATAI

Natural

Teratai works particularly well in a living-room drenched in natural shades and materials, such as oak wood, roughly plastered walls and a lot of natural light. This, together with the model's distinctive quilting, creates a mood of calm and harmony, encouraging you to slow down and relax. Make Teratai the centerpiece of your modern country home.

TERATAI

Jungle

That's the Teratai we know and love: wild, loud and flamboyant yet the perfect retreat from the stresses of daily life. The sofa's gentle, organic shape works especially well in spacious and airy rooms. As a freestanding sofa-sculpture Teratai can be the perfect place for a chat, or an oasis of relaxation. The modular system also allows you to create straight sofas, or combining them with the rounded shapes. Teratai complements the Bretz collection perfectly, offering practical and comfortable seating for every living-room.
