DINING

philosophy

A good candlelight dinner needs more than just good food; it's also important to feel comfortable at the table. Almost like being in your favourite restaurant. Because if the ambience is right, the only thing that's really missing is a comfortable chair that invites us to linger and carries us softly through the evening.

And that's where opinions differ greatly: one person needs an armrest, another can do without. A static chair or one that allows for movement? Everyone has their own preferences when it comes to sitting comfortably. Don't worry though, we have the perfect chair for every requirement.

- Flexible hybrid between chair and armchair: incredibly comfortable so that you can sit around a table with your friends for hours
- Linear indentations at the back and in the seat underline the symmetry of a flower pattern
- Casual upholstery and the flower form cling to your body
- For any direct communication around the table: A rotatable frame in matt black and powder-coated or in silver.
